and was lead instructor for the Emergency Vehicle Operation Course.

In 2000. Odetto became the Tiburon Chief of Police, a position he held for six years before his appointment as San Rafael Chief of Police in December 2006. Chief Odetto, firmly committed to maintaining services to San Rafael residents in spite of economic difficulties, guided the Police Department as it confronted newly limited resources. He built partnerships with community groups, solicited support from the private sector, and made community policing a priority. He secured new funding sources to ensure that gaps in resources were covered, eventually providing for the return of the Citizen's Academy program, which introduces the public to the work of the San Rafael Police Department and its law enforcement officers.

Mr. Speaker, I ask you to join me in thanking Chief Odetto for his contributions to Marin County. He has set an admirable standard for compassionate and responsive public service, and we wish him the best in his retirement.

NATIONAL DAY FOR THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA ON TAIWAN

HON. LYNN A. WESTMORELAND

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday, September 20, 2011

Mr. WESTMORELAND. Mr. Speaker, as the Republic of China on Taiwan celebrates the 100th anniversary of their founding, I rise to celebrate their National Day and to commend them for 100 years of progress. As a friend and ally of the United States, the Republic of China on Taiwan is a model for nations around the world: a peaceful and prosperous democracy.

I would like to take a moment and commend the 23 million citizens of Taiwan for their commitment to peace. As a symbol of this commitment, the Republic of China on Taiwan recently melted down artillery shells and used the metal to construct a "peace bell." Given the many struggles and hardships the people of the Republic of China on Taiwan have faced—and the threats they continue to face—they deserve enormous credit for their sustained desire for peace. We celebrate these efforts to maintain good relations with other countries, and the United States is proud to call the Republic of China on Taiwan a partner in peace.

In closing, I hope my colleagues will join me in thanking President Ma, Vice President Siew, and the people of the Republic of China on Taiwan for their continued commitment to peace on this anniversary of their National Day.

INTRODUCTION OF THE FAIR AND EQUITABLE POSTAL SERVICE ACT

HON. GWEN MOORE

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES  $Tuesday,\,September\,\,20,\,2011$

Ms. MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to rise with my colleague from Ohio, MARCIA FUDGE, to introduce the "Fair and Equitable Postal Service Act."

We are all concerned about the fiscal crisis facing the United States Postal Service. This summer, the Postal Service released a list of some 3600 post offices, branches, and stations that are under review for closure or consolidation. According to recent testimony by the Government Accountability Office, as many as 12,000 Postal Service retail facilities may be on the chopping block in the next few years.

While Congress gave the Postal Service authority "to determine the need for post offices, postal and training facilities and equipment, and to provide such offices, facilities . . . as it determines are needed," that same charge also requires that postal services be established "of such character and in such locations, that postal patrons throughout the Nation will . . . have ready access to essential postal service."

The legislation we introduce today would give the Postal Service guidance as it works to balance those obligations in a way that ensures that these closures don't fall on the backs of the most vulnerable. It would require the Postal Service, as it considers closures, to specifically examine the needs and impacts of its closures on low-income, elderly, and other populations that have the least means to access alternatives because of limited transportation options and internet access.

For these populations, their local offices provide a range of services that they simply may not have the resources or ability to access elsewhere. The need for this bill was only reinforced yesterday with the release of a Census Bureau report which found that that the poverty rate increased in 2010. There were 46 million people in poverty last year. If you don't have enough money to pay for food and keep the lights on, what are the chances you have the income to pay for broadband to access postal services online?

Further, this legislation would prevent any closures that would have a "disproportionate, unreasonable, or undue burden on these populations." The impetus for this legislation was the proposal by the Postal Service to close 5 out of the 26 retail facilities in the Milwaukee area. Every one of the facilities under review are located in one portion of the city with high rates of poverty. If approved, these closures would effectively cut off postal services for residents in these communities.

Too often decisions like these are driven by only one consideration: cutting costs. This bill sends a message to the Postal Service that it must consider the challenges faced by these populations when access to postal services is reduced.

The Postal Service is a national service. It's trusted by the American public. It offers services that are a vital lifeline for all Americans at all income levels, ages, and stages in life. Congress mandated a nationwide postal service—not a two-tier system where post offices in high income areas are able to keep their lights on while those in inner-city and rural communities slowly fade away. I urge my colleagues to cosponsor this legislation.

HONORING BECHTEL BWXT IDAHO LEGACY AT AMWTP

HON. MICHAEL K. SIMPSON

OF IDAHO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday, September 20, 2011

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, as a representative of Idaho's Second Congressional District and member of the House Energy and Water Development Subcommittee, it gives me great pleasure to recognize Bechtel BWXT Idaho's exemplary eight year legacy at the Advanced Mixed Waste Treatment Project, AMWTP.

Under BBWI's supervision, AMWTP is the United States Department of Energy's most advanced waste treatment facility, safely and compliantly sending more radioactive waste to the DOE Waste Isolation Pilot Plant for permanent disposal than any other site in the DOE Complex

The excellence of BBWI and its employees shows through numerous awards ranging from the 2005 Department of Energy Electrical Safety Challenge to the multiple National Safety Awards received in 2010. Employees have worked more than 12.4 million hours and 2,839 days without a lost-time injury and have shipped more than 43,718 cubic meters of transurance, mixed low level, and low level waste
